Watch our video of how to make chocolate-covered strawberries for another look at this recipe and easy steps so you can say “I love you” in a most delicious way. Chocolate covered strawberries might just be the “ultimate” Valentine's Day treat. Pair them with a glass of champagne (or sparkling cider, for you teetotalers), some dim lights and some Barry White on the iPod and you have a seriously romantic night! This is the simplest version of chocolate covered strawberries I know. Paraffin was originally used instead of shortening. Turn the strawberries upside down and insert by the toothpicks into a piece of styrofoam for easy cooling, or simply place them on a sheet of wax paper. Food Network Kitchen's Chocolate-Covered Strawberries are perfect as a sweet party treat or as a romantic dessert for two.
