Patient participation is a trend that arose in answer to perceived physician paternalism. However, only rarely can unchecked physician paternalism be justified, and unlimited patient autonomy would presumably be equally abhorrent. Building a patient-centered healthcare culture – assisting medical institutions in building patient satisfaction and a successful patient experience – is a key focus of mine. History. Dr. David Smith began serving patients in 1974. Providing the best possible care he has grown his practice to now include himself and three physicians, four nurse practitioners and a physician assistant who now serve over thousands of patients in the Greater Lansing area.
