

Download Praying Mantis For Christmas

Springfield veterinarian Molly Kreuze is bugged that more than 100 praying mantises have infested her home after hatching from an egg case hidden in her Christmas tree. A Virginia woman's home was overrun by more than a hundred praying mantises after the insects hatched from a brown egg sack that was attached to her Christmas tree that was destined for the curb. Not just praying mantis', but this mum shared another creepy tale, commenting: "My son had a spider nest in his. "Christmas morning there were millions of tiny spiders all over the tree and ...Like many Christmas lovers, Molly Kreuze, of Springfield, set up a real Christmas tree in her home for the holiday. Little did she know that a brown sac full of praying mantis eggs was hidden ...